

The 94th Aero Squadron

Dinner and Raffle

Saturday February 13th
Hosted by Stick and Karen Holmes

On Saturday, February 20 the San Diego Jaguar Club held it's dinner meeting at the 94th Aero Squadron at Montgomery Field. This wonderful restaurant is decorated as a rustic World War I era airfield command post located in a French Chateau. It is replete with World War I memorabilia, sandbags, models, and photographs. Bully for you if you took my suggestion and viewed the movie Dawn Patrol before attending!

The only thing we did not do that was promised was rope off a Jaguar Only parking area. It had rained so hard earlier that conditions were just not right for any parking lot activities except car parking.

Adjutant Haley Holmes at the check-in table

In the Ward Room, we started off with a no-host bar. Members signed in with Adjutant Haley Holmes, then socialized in the rustic surroundings by a warm fireplace. We enjoyed an exceptionally delicious dinner and dessert in our own private room overlooking Montgomery Field. The service was cordial and timely with food delivered warm and beverages aplenty.

Fearing a mutiny, I kept the meeting part short and sweet. I was happy to introduce a new member and old squadron mate of mine, Pete (Dog) Alexander and his lovely wife Melanie.

Karen and Haley then ramrodded a really rousing raffle with better-than-average Jaguar-related prizes. Of the 37 members in attendance, almost every couple won something.

All-in-all, it was an event well worth attending and a splendid time was had by all. A hardy Thank You! to the management and staff of the 94th Aero Squadron for taking such good care of us.
